Dedication

MR. LEWIS JACKSON

The Seniors of Trade High take pride in honoring Mr. Lewis Jackson for his 50 years in the Springfield School System by dedicating this year's annual to him. Twenty-one of those years he has given of himself to the life of Trade High; ever cooperative, alert and prompt in his service.

Springfield claims Lewis as its own, welcoming him to life 69 years ago. Although he grew up in a small town called Pine Plains, N. Y., he came back home to re-establish life in Western Massachusetts.

Looking back, Lewis can well feel proud of his family, which grew from two daughters and one son to 10 grandchildren and 3 great-grand children. Oftentimes he proudly speaks about them to his fellow workers, many times adding zest to the stories with his quick wit, and friendly humor. Many a time his quiet demure in getting a point across led one to believe once again in the old saying, "Silence is golden."

So now in the golden years of his seniority, we extend to Mr. Jackson much health in his future and much joy in his family. Come back to visit Trade High, Lewis.

President's Message

Class Day is a time for looking back on the past four years as well as taking a look ahead to the many important years to come.

In surveying the past, we are well aware of the fact that we owe a debt of gratitude to the many people who have helped us in our progress to this point. To our parents, who have urged us on and helped us through all phases of our education and our lives, our heartfelt thanks. To the faculty of Trade High School, we owe our gratitude for imparting the knowledge and skills which have equipped us to move now into the fields of endeavor which we have chosen. We may leave Springfield Trade High with the certainty that we are prepared to take our places among those who have preceded us, those who will be our co-workers and fellow students from this day on.

It is gratifying to know that in this world which has changed so markedly in the past generation—our generation—we are prepared to assume our places in the first ranks of industry, business, and education. As skills and trades have become more complicated and demanding, our school has kept pace with all the latest developments and methods. It has set for itself the task of producing graduates who are ready to avail themselves of the promise of the world in which they live. We mean to prove that this task has been accomplished!

Class History

FRESHMAN YEAR

In September, 1957, just four short years ago, many of the members of the graduating class of 1961 began their freshman year at Springfield Trade High School. As yet we had no class advisors and, therefore, we didn't elect any class officers. Suddenly June was upon us, and we were amazed at how quickly our first year had passed.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

With September, 1958, came the promise of class organization. Our newly appointed class advisors, Miss O'Neil and Mr. Ross helped us to conduct our first election in which we elected Charles Belden, President; Annette Vachon, Vice-President; Annette Provost, Secretary; Claude Talbot, Treasurer; Janei James, Girl Marshal, and Robert Tessier, Boy Marshal.

On March 13, 1959, we held our first dance. The Shamrock Hop, which was a huge success.

JUNIOR YEAR

Returning from a pleasant summer vacation to our junior year, we noticed that we were to witness many memorable events. Knowing this, we immediately set about the task of electing our junior class officers which were: Charles Belden, President; Alberta Pepin, Vice-President; Annette Provost, Secretary; Carol Moyer, Treasurer; Barbara Phelps, Girl Marshal; and Albert Charon, Boy Marshal.

In December, closed circuit television was introduced to our school, and that spring the addition of the new mechanics section was added. On May 13, 1960, we held the Beaver Hop, and on the seventeenth of that month, we held the election of our senior class officers.

SENIOR YEAR

On September 6 we returned as seniors for our last year at Trade High. Our class officers were: Joseph Testori, President; Alberta Pepin, Vice-President; Patricia Supczak, Secretary; Carol Moyer, Treasurer; Barbara Phelps, Girl Marshal; and Thomas Walsh, Boy Marshal.

In October, 1960, a straw vote was held in our school for the Presidency of the United States. We then sponsored the Harvest Hop in November. In February, the school welcomed The Freedom Shrine, saw the marriage of one of our classmates, Doris Moyer to Lester Brooks, and the success of our Sweetheart Hop. We held our Senior meeting the last of March and at that time Maurice Disley replaced Thomas Walsh as Boy Marshal.

In April we reached the high points of our senior year; our Prom and Banquet held April 13, Class Day held April 21, and our Senior Class Luncheon held in the Trade High Tea Room on April 25 and 26.

June 14 will always be remembered by every member of the graduating class of '61. As we walk down the center aisle of the Springfield Municipal Auditorium, memories of those who have helped us, worked with us and saw us through to that day will linger in our minds. They will never be forgotten by any one of us.

Class Will

State of Massachusetts
Hampden County
Town of Springfield
Trade High School

We, the class of 1961, realizing that our four years at Trade high school are nearly finished, do declare and publish our last Will and Testament. Being of sound mind and body we generously leave the following items:

First, to our parents, our everlasting love, gratitude, and devotion.

Second, to Mr. Garvey, our principal, our respect and appreciation for his guidance during these past four years.

Third, to Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Brunton, our assistant principals, our appreciation for their unselfish and wise leadership.

Fourth, to Miss O'Neil and Mr. Ross, our class advisors, our admiration and respect for their kind understanding guidance.

Fifth, to the faculty, our sincere admiration and gratitude for having labored so duteously to try to make us, not only good students, but also good citizens.

Sixth, to the Junior Class, our position of leadership at Trade High, with the hope that they will fill this role with dignity next year.

Seventh, to the Sophomores, our scholastic, and all-around ability.

Eighth, to the freshmen, our hopes and wishes that they, four years from now, will be in our shoes.

The following items may seem trivial, but we hope that they will bring to mind fond memories of the Class of '61!

Joseph Testori wills to Steve Ziemian one pair of worn shoes and one pencil and some yellow lined paper for notes, along with a book of excuses to get around leading questions to Brian Daniels.

Albera Harriet Pepin wills to all future girls of the Architectural Drafting Department the fortune of being the one and only girl in a classroom of 21 boys.

Patricia Supczak wills her ability to flirt with almost any boy in Trade High to someone who has the time because she didn't.

Carol Moyer wills to anyone, her job of cashiering in the lunch room. That is, if she can stand the nonsense of putting up with some of those boys.

Barbara Phelps wills Arthur Debour the ticket from the Sweetheart Hop.

Maurice Disely just leaves.

Richard Zwinski wills all his Honor Society, Student Council, Steering Committee and Year Book passes to whomever wants them.

Philip Clough leaves the Presidency of the Honor Society open to any boy or girl that can put up with Mr. Fitzgibbons' jokes.

Warren John Mathison, being out of mind and a physical wreck does hereby leave all his theoretical and mathematical computations concerning the theories of Darwin and Freud, to the most able young man, another scholar of Trade High, Jean Demers, of the Architectural Drafting Department.

Charles Belden leaves.

David Plante wills to Nick Colagionanni all his excuses for getting out of classes and shop.

Regina Isham wills her best suit to anyone in her shop that thinks he can wear it.

Richard Moskal wills his gym suit (that he hasn't used in three years) to any freshman who wants it.

Nancy Ayers and Harry Griswold will the next couple who dares to hold hands in front of Mr. Kehoe all the luck in the world.

Bob Methot leaves his first lunch and coffee break secrets to Mr. Prew.

Janet James leaves to Gale Plummer her

Class Will

mathematical ability and her well known blush.

Jo Ann Besancon leaves all her answers to the Macbeth tests to Kathy Bardelli.

Peter Alexopoulos wills to James Bolduc his place in front of Miss O'Neil's room on the lonely third floor.

Mary Laudate wills to Mary Desy the desire and ambition to become a teacher.

William French leaves to William Brady the responsibility of keeping Willie Barker off the third floor.

Gail Daigle wills to Miss Gilson her knowledge of baking cakes. Peter Cote wills to "Dean" McGibney the 1960 soccer team.

Larry Genander, wills to Frank Chiard, chucker of the Trade Bowling team, his favorite bowling ball in hopes it will help him in future games.

Leonard Parzych wills to Stan Tyburski his parking spot on Roosevelt Avenue. One of these days Stan will get his license.

Annette Vachon and Annette Provost will to Wally and Doryce Provost, all the broken lockers they have had during their four years at Trade High.

Nelson Freeman, leaves to Bruce Minor two used prom tickets.

Sandra Marks, Marcella Gauthier, and Sandra Madden will to Paul Corbett, John Mascitis, and Al Brown the hope that graduation will be just the beginning for them all.

Ralph Kendall wills to Bob Livermore his stool at Durocher's Diner. Don't get caught.

William Roberts wills to Ken Duby his coffee cup and a book of passes.

Miss O'Neil and Mr. Ross will to Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Souza two large bottles of tranquilizers.

Signed and sealed on the fifth day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-one in the city of Springfield, in the count of Hampden, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Class Song

FAREWELL TRADE HIGH

May the friends we've made
In our school days
Travel with us on our way.
May the times we'll share together
Be as bright as yesterday.

Seeking courage, not to falter
In our future, very near
May we honor our instructors
Memory in our hearts so dear.

Chorus—

Inspired by those who taught us
In our days at old Trade High.
Let the thought of Alma Mater
In our hearts and minds abide.

To ever keep our lives from drifting
On a sea of endless tide
May we face the future bravely
Guided by OLD TRADE HIGH.

Farewell—Good Luck

Thurston Munson

Mr. Thurston Munson came to Springfield Trade High School in 1940 and has taught art and architectural drafting during his tenure here. Many of the most beautiful areas within the school reflect his ability as artist, architect, and engineer. The portraits of former Principal Burridge and former Assistant Principal Ells that hang in the auditorium clearly show his talent as a portrait painter. Trade's library, which is probably the most beautiful example of modern design to be found, is a permanent monument to Mr. Munson. He designed the indirect lighting, the ceiling, the counter arrangement, and painted the murals that adorn the walls. He enjoys sharing his exceptional talent and ability with any of his co-workers.

Harold Sherwood

Mr. Harold Sherwood's career in the teaching field extends over a period of thirty years. He taught in the Weymouth Vocational High School, Weymouth, Massachusetts, for sixteen years. He was a supervisor on government projects during the war for two years, and came to Springfield Trade High School in 1949 to take a position as Chairman of the Cabinet Department. Mr. Sherwood has served on many important teachers' committees and has held office in various teachers' organizations, locally and on the state level. His co-workers appreciate the many benefits they enjoy due to his untiring efforts on their behalf.
